About Liontown

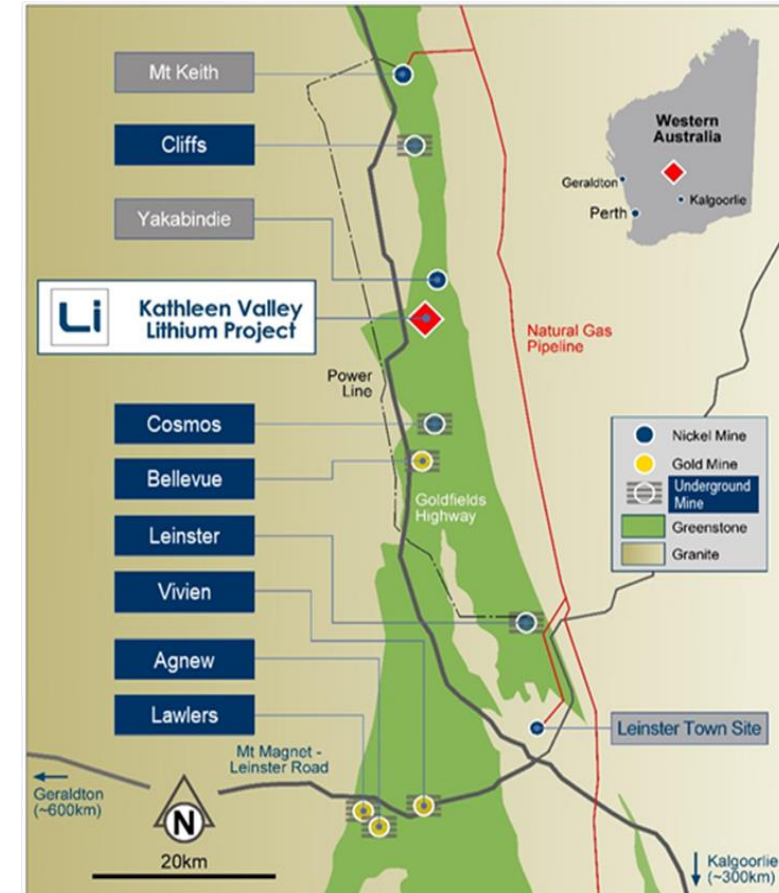

Liontown is an emerging tier 1 battery minerals producer whose purpose is to find, develop and supply battery minerals to the electric vehicle and energy storage industries.

The company’s vision is to be a globally significant provider of battery minerals as the world transitions to a low-carbon future.

The Kathleen Valley Lithium Project comprises a lithium processing facility, including renewable power generation, solar farm, accommodation village, open pit, underground mine, tailings storage facility and associated non-process infrastructure.

The Project is located approximately 680 kilometres north-east of Perth and 350 kilometres north-west of Kalgoorlie in the northern Goldfields region of Western Australia. Liontown began construction in 2022, with first production anticipated for mid-2024.

Kathleen Valley is one of the most significant new long-life lithium projects being constructed anywhere in the world.

ESG is in our DNA

We have designed our company and operations with ESG at the centre

Partnering with Others

At Liontown, we believe that the success of our business is deeply intertwined with the well-being of our planet and society. We strive to create a positive impact through our operations, and we actively seek suppliers who share our commitment to environmental, social, and governance (ESG) principles. Partnering with others is key to achieving our ESG goals.

By partnering with suppliers who prioritise responsible business practices, we can create a more responsible, sustainable and resilient supply chain. Working together, we can minimise ESG risks, drive innovation, and contribute to a better future for our stakeholders and the world at large.

By joining forces, we can amplify our positive impact, foster long-term partnerships, and contribute to a more sustainable future.

Our partnerships extend beyond our immediate supply chain. We work with local communities to understand their needs and priorities and we collaborate with other organisations to support social and environmental initiatives that align with our values.

Through our supplier contract process, we facilitate business opportunities for Tjiwarl member businesses as our aim is to create genuine long-term wealth for Tjiwarl people beyond our operations.

If your company is committed to ESG principles, consider becoming one of our valued suppliers.

How to register your interest

Liontown has partnered with the Industry Capability Network Western Australia (WA) to provide a pivotal connection between Liontown's current opportunities and potential suppliers.

The Industry Capability Network Western Australia (WA) is an independent network of experienced industry procurement and supply chain specialists.

Tendering opportunities are advertised via Industry Capability Network Western Australia (WA) to allow suppliers to register an expression of interest.

The expression of interest is a preliminary step to understanding and identifying whether there are potential suppliers in the market that are interested and have the capability to deliver the required goods and/or services. Following the closure of the expression of interest packages, suitably qualified suppliers may be invited to a formal sourcing process.
